Mouhamed is a young power forward with a 2.25m wingspan and great athletic ability. Although his best position is 4, he can also play small forward and 5 thanks to his physical conditions and high defensive level. He is a player who plays above the rim as he is very long and stands out for his high defensive intensity and for being very mobile.

Thanks to his long arms he is able to grab many offensive rebounds per game. And the ones he does not manage to grab, he touches them to get second options or to abort counterattacks from quick opponents. He is excellent at defensive rebounding, as he has assimilated very good rebound blocking concepts. He doesn't wait for the ball to touch the rim to start blocking, but starts the move as soon as the ball leaves the shooter's hands.

Khalifa attacks the rim very often, and is able to finish very close or with dunks. In addition, he draws a lot of fouls on his opponents and has progressed in free throw shooting to become a reliable shooter from the 4.60m line.

Defensively he is a very interesting player for any team as he can defend guards and centers. In this case up to 4 positions, from 2 to 5 with good results. He has long arms and he is aggressive and strong in the divided balls, he always leaves his all on the court. He makes good use of his long legs to make quick defensive movements.

In addition to all this, he is a great shot stopper, which makes him, additionally to his good communication and intuition for rebounds, a very good rim protector.

In short, Diallo is a very young player, with a great desire to improve and a great capacity for sacrifice, thanks to which he is progressing a lot in all aspects of the game year after year.
